

NANDEWAR Poetry Competition, October 2012

Below are the results of the Nandewar Poetry Competition.

The Judge found it very difficult to arrive at a winner, but as you can see she chose a very capable poet.

Florence Peterson is a first time entrant in our competition and she has picked up a second and a third placing.

The Committee chose Valerie Read's "Homesick" over several others, mostly because it was not only well written, but they could all relate to it.

I would like to personally thank all those who entered the competition.

1st. Ron Stevens "Voices in the Silence"

2nd Florence Peterson "You Never Told Me"

3rd Florence Peterson "Fog"

Special Committee Award for 10th Anniversary

Valerie Read "Homesick"

Highly Commended:

Kevin Pye "Dream On"

Valerie Read "The Real Man From Snowy River"

Brenda Joy "As Tracks May Lead"

David Campbell "A Kingdom of Clouds"

John Bond "Black Saturday"

David Campbell "Tomorrow"

Thank you
